

W. W. CHAMBERS NAMED NOMINEE FOR MAYOR

CITY ELECTION TUESDAY SEES 1166 VOTES POLLED IN PRIMARY

W. W. Chambers has been nominated by the democrats as their candidate for Mayor and will succeed to that office in April.

In the primary election Tuesday a total of 1166 votes were cast in a colorful political display that equaled the traditions of city politics of the past.

In the race for marshal B. Slocumb, incumbent, lacked but 68 votes of a majority. The run off primary date has not been set. Geo. Richards was the second in number of votes in this race and will oppose Mr. Slocumb in the run off, if he chooses to continue for this office.

Hubert Hefley led the ticket in the number of votes polled for a place on the executive committee.

Dan Tyson, popular assessor and collector, led the ticket among those who had opponents.

Mr. Chambers who is to take his place as head of the government is one of the best known Cameron attorneys, has served at the Cameron bar for many years and for a long period was prosecuting attorney in this county. He declares that he will go into office on a platform of economy, will put the government on a budget basis and insists on the people's rights in every respect. If Mr. Chambers carries out this platform he will merit the gratitude of the entire people.

The following is the vote:

For Mayor
W. W. Chambers	708
Wm. R. Rogers	435
J. C. Martin	1
J. M. Ralston	1
For Secretary-Treasurer
J. C. Joseph	1153
For Assessor and Collector
Dan Tyson	755
Eber Flinn	405
For City Attorney
Paul Webb	697
B. P. Matocha	426
For City Marshal
B. Slocumb	536
Geo. Richards	336
J. E. Holtzclaw	268
Max Collins	4
For Chairman Executive Committee
S. M. Burns	1148
D. H. Slaughter	1
For Aldermen
J. F. Brown	1020
W. O. Triggs	1065
J. C. Young	1
For Executive Committeemen
Hubert Hefley	1156
J. W. Coleman	1110
Judd Davis	1107
Elwood Cammer	1092

It will be seen that many tickets were scratched. This is probably the result of misunderstanding as scratches occur in races where there was no opposition.

Some of the names appearing on the ballot were written there by friends and the men were in no way candidates. This occurred in the race for Mayor, City Marshal and Aldermen as well as the chairmanship of the executive committee.

KETONEN WILL MEET VIC MILLER TUESDAY

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED BY KETONEN FROM OKLAHOMA WRESTLER

Ketonen has accepted the challenge issued by Vic Miller and will meet the Oklahoma wrestler here on next Tuesday night, February 14.

Joe Kopecky who is now at Borger has delayed his date here and the Legion committee has staged a match with Miller and Ketonen. This arrangement was satisfactory with Ketonen who left Cameron Wednesday afternoon for Temple and from there will go to Wichita Falls to engage in a match.

Both men are popular here with fans and the match should be one of the best ever seen here.

The committee announces that a match is in the program between Gus Kallio of Jackson, Miss., and Ketonen. The Mississippi man is the recognized Junior champion of the world and is in Texas to wrestle in the winter months.

Missouri Pacific In Plan for Excursion To Rio Grande Valley

B. T. Harris, local agent for the Missouri Pacific, has brought before the commercial club and the Lions club plans of the road for a special good will train to the lower Rio Grande Valley on February 21st. The train trip will depend on the enthusiasm along the line. The train would leave Waco at 5 p. m., arriving via Cameron about 7 p. m., arriving at Edenburg at 6:30 a. m. the following day, at Harlingen at 7:30 and Brownsville at 8:30. The train would leave there on the 23rd and arrive in Cameron at 5 or 6 a. m. the following day. The round trip will be about 75 per cent of the one way fare.

LODGE ATTENDANCE KNIGHTS PYTHIAS AIM

COMMITTEE NAMED BY CHANCELLOR FOR WORK

Lodge attendance will be the major objective of Cameron Lodge, Knights of Pythias for the first six months of the new year, according to J. B. White, chancellor commander, who was recently installed. In his short address before the Lodge after being installed, he declared that all other lodge activities were dependent upon a high percentage of attendance. He said that the most important work of the various committees during the early months of the year would be to stimulate attendance at the weekly conventions.

A special committee has been appointed to work with the entertainment committee to provide programs of unusual interest which will be given at each meeting when the Lodge is not engaged in conferring the Ranks. The attendance committee is composed of C. D. McGehee, chairman and Jake Posey and W. L. Wilson.

"The most active lodges are those which have the largest regular attendance," said Chancellor White. "Every other interest of the fraternity grows naturally when attendance is normal. I have read in Pythian publications of many lodges which devoted a few months to building up interest through attendance and note that in every case when the attendance reaches a maximum, initiations follow and the Lodge becomes active in many community projects. We have had many drives in our Lodge. We have sought membership and have conducted reinstatement campaigns with nominal results. I believe if we can obtain an average attendance of fifty per cent of our membership at each regular convention, we will enjoy a normal growth and at the same time reduce losses through non payment of dues."

"I was much impressed by a recent statement made by Harry Wade, President of our Insurance Department, published in the Insurance Department News, when he said: 'Our Subordinate Lodges need attendance, and for that reason every member of the Insurance Department should regularly attend this lodge.' If the members of this branch of the Order feel the need of increased attendance at Lodge conventions, it is infinitely more important for all members to feel the responsibility of attendance."

"The power and influence of fraternity is increased by fellowship. Lodge attendance intensifies fellowship and when we meet regularly in our Castle Halls, they not only know each other better but are drawn together by a common interest and matters of the lodge and community are developed to a much greater degree by such association."

The committees in charge of this activity have under consideration a plan of providing trophies or awards to the members who have a hundred per cent in attendance to July 1. Chancellor Commander White said that perfect attendance would begin with the officers of the Lodge and that only sickness or absence from the city would be taken as a good excuse for the absence of any lodge officer.

World Needs to Discover Religion of Jesus; Gave to Mankind Doctrine of Brotherhood But Many Churches Betray His Spirit

A Sermon By
REV. H. G. KENNEY
First Presbyterian Church

Text: St. Matt. 23: 8—"Be not ye called Rabbi; for one is your teacher and all ye are brethren."

The great discovery of our age is not the universe within the atom, as the theory of relativity so ardently and technically sets forth. The great discovery of our age is the universe within the soul. Within recent years we have come more and more to understand something about the possibilities and dependability of the average man. All this, of course, is no more than Jesus knew and taught centuries ago, only we would not believe it until science had verified it. Now, because of this new and fuller knowledge of human personality there has been in progress for several years a movement which is known as "The Rediscovery of the Religion of Jesus." Men have come to see that the old religion of authority and dogma is no more the religion of Jesus than modern Buddhism is the religion of Gautama. That our religion has suffered with the passing of the years, all well informed people now know.

Now, I know something about how the disciples must have felt when Jesus told them they were not to be called Rabbi, for the iron clad religion of their day was not greatly different

ANNUAL STUNT NIGHT FRIDAY NIGHT 10TH

CLASSES COMPETE IN PROGRAM AT YOE HI SCHOOL FRIDAY NIGHT

Yoe High School will hold its fourth annual stunt night, Friday night, February 10, eight o'clock.

The annual stunt night is held the second Friday night of each year at the high school auditorium. The four classes compete with each other in putting on the best stunt. A prize is always given for the best stunt and the class winning the prize, will then present the prize to the school.

This year there will be two prizes given the first and second prize. These prizes are pictures taken around Cameron and are enlarged and tinted by the local artist Mr. J. C. Martin. These pictures are on display in the Palace of Sweets window.

Each class will put on their stunt and at the conclusion of the program a committee of disinterested people will decide on the best stunt and the prizes will be awarded immediately after this decision.

We are sorry that we cannot give out much information concerning the character of the stunts that are to be given by each class, but this is more or less a secret with each class and it is rather hard to get any information concerning the particular stunts put on by their classes.

The price of admission will be 25c for students and 35c for adults. This will go to the library fund and will help give Yoe High School the best high school library in Texas.

Many See The Play "Magic Charm" At Yoe High School

To Misses Ethel Jenkins and Lucille Peterson is due much praise and credit for the success of the play, "Magic Charm," given at the Yoe High school auditorium Tuesday night February 7 and given by 100 pupils of the Ada Henderson school.

Miss Cornelia Gunn was pianist. But for lack of space we would print the names of those who took part in the play, however the names were carried on the programs.

This was one of the most successful of local talent efforts ever made here.

Increase Shown In Auto License Here

An increase of 634 in the number of auto license plates is shown by the records of Roy Law, tax collector. The number of license plates for 1928 is 5152 as compared with 4513 for 1927.

Mr. Law estimates that all tax payments are in proportion to the figures shown in this report.

To My Friends

I take this method of thanking my friends over the city who supported me in the primary election on Tuesday. I am grateful for their support and the vote I received at the polls. A man has no greater asset than friends and although I failed to gain a place in the run off election, I am grateful for the support of those who endorsed me for city marshal of Cameron.

J. E. HOLTZCLAW.

Judge Ed F. English will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of Peace, he announced Tuesday. On account of lack of space in this issue, more will be said in the next issue.

KETONEN DEFEATS KARHUNSAARI HERE

REGAINS CHAMPIONSHIP IN 3 FALL MATCH AT HALL ON TUESDAY

Ketonen has regained his title by defeating Karhunsari in a three fall match here Tuesday night.

The match was the first to go three falls held in Cameron under the auspices of the Legion and was won by the champion after he had lost the first fall to the Finn.

Karhunsari took the first fall from Ketonen in about ten minutes after the men began the match. The Finn put up a game battle but was clearly outclassed in this match by the champion.

The return engagement here was arranged after the Finn had taken a match from Ketonen when the latter was cut above the left eye and could not return to the match.

When Ketonen took the second fall the Finn left the ring amid cheers for his conqueror and showed plainly his disapproval of the popular favor.

Karhunsari, although claiming that he was kicked in the last fall, was not sustained by Referee McElwrath. The Finn fell to the canvas and assistance was given him by Ketonen and the referee after his shoulders had been pinned to the mat, but he went thru the ropes to his dressing room. The claim is not allowed and Ketonen is given the decision, thereby regaining championship title.

Challenges from three other wrestlers were read from the ring. Vic Miller who is now in Marlin challenged the winner of the match but the match for next Tuesday night has been awarded to Joe Kopecky who is now in Borger. He is to meet Ketonen here next Tuesday night.

Karhunsari says that a kick on the chin is not rules and while he has become resigned to his defeat, he desires another chance. He will leave this week for Wichita Falls or Amarillo, as soon as dates can be arranged. He has matches there. He will return to Cameron sometime in the near future he declares.

Local Talent Stars In "Old Fashioned Mother" Given Here

The Play "Old Fashioned Mother" given at the Knights of Columbus Hall Wednesday night was seen by the largest crowd ever attending a home talent production in Cameron.

The play was a drama in three acts with a fascinating and gripping appeal featuring Mrs. J. A. Lindle who took and portrayed the part of the mother who after years of struggle and unwavering devotion to her children wins triumph over ingratitude.

The play was directed by J. A. Lindle who has become famous here for his work in the theater. The plan is to promote the little theater idea as now prevalent in the larger cities.

In the play there was much witt and laughter was often the response. A delightful between acts program was a good feature.

Increasing patronage features these plays. Mr. Lindle expects to have another play in about six weeks.

Following the play a dance was held in the hall free to guests at the show.

WORKS OF AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN MASTERS HERE FOR SHOWING

"Tell me what pictures hang upon his walls and what books are his companions and I will tell you what manner of man he is," the words of a wise man.

That the school should train for the use and choice of good books is accepted and every school does this obviously, to a greater or less extent. But to be well educated means a many-sided development and the knowledge of Art is one of the pre-requisites of Modern Education.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Under The Capitol Dome

Houston, Tex., Feb. 6, 1928.

To Editor of Cameron Herald,
Dear Sir:

Knocking around over the State as I have been I find that everybody is planning to come to the Houston convention. Particularly those who have in their orders for a new Ford.
They are planning to pack up the Ford with some cots and a cooking outfit and drive down here for the big show. It comes after school is out, when vacations are in order, when the roads will be good and camping out will be pleasant.

So I decided to come down here and find out what chance these people are going to have to see the convention after they get here. I came down and talked to the mayor and several of the big boys who have the plans in charge. And I want to tell you, Mr.
Editor, that it looks like more people are going to see this convention than ever saw one before, unless, maybe, it was the one held at Madison Square Garden four years ago.

Houston is going to build a hall that will seat 25,000 people. It will be nearly two blocks long and a block wide. The speaker will stand on a platform away out almost in the middle and will be surrounded with microphones attached to loud speakers all over the building. So, if you get a back seat, you still can hear every word he says and see him fairly well.

About 10,000 of these seats will be turned over to the national committee and Houston will keep about 15,000 seats. These 10,000 seats will be on the floor of the convention proper and you will pretty near have to be a delegate, alternate of somebody come to get in there. But the mayor, Oscar Holcombe, says he wants everybody to have a chance at the 15,000 seats. They haven't worked out a plan to give everybody a chance, though.

Here's one way to get a seat. Get in with somebody who is contributing to that $300,000 fund. Houston is not selling seats, but if a bank in Houston, or elsewhere, donates $5,000 to the fund of course the committee could not do otherwise than give that bank about 100 of those seats. The bank will send out the tickets to its country banker friends all over the state. All Houston business firms will do the same thing. They may not give an entire ticket to one man, but will let him use it one or two days and then pass it on to some other man from out of town. So if you have any friends among the Houston business men, now is a good time to start wiring to them or writing.

And now, let's figure if the convention will be worth attending. I'll say it will be. Along about the third day, when the nominations begin, there sure will be a hot time. There'll be several bands, a lot of parades, more noise than you ever heard in your life, with people going wild and maybe a few good old fist fights going on.
It looks now like Al Smith may be nominated about the third or fourth ballot. In that event it will all be over by the end of the fourth or fifth day.

But the anti-Smith crowd will fight hard, especially here in Texas, and they may succeed in instructing the Texas 40 delegates against Al. If they do and if he is not nominated by the fourth or fifth ballot you may be seeing the last democratic convention in history. It is entirely possible that the party will go to smash right here in Houston.

There will not be any 100 or more ballots, as they had in New York. If the Smith crowd can't put their man over after a few ballots there is very likely to be a split, for the two sides of the party are so far apart on the liquor and religion question that there is no other candidate with whom they could hope to win. The drys are as much opposed to Reed and Ritchie as to Smith, the anti-Catholic element is opposed to Walsh of Montana as Smith. Robinson of Arkansas might get the support of everybody, but he wouldn't have a chance to win the presidency against Hoover.

There is really very little of an economic issue between the democratic and republican parties any longer.
Each has taken over some of the other's theories and platform planks.
That is why lots of people foresee the time in the near future when the nation as a whole will have what Texas has had for 40 years—a wet and dry party. It is entirely possible that that will be the issue that may split the party here in Houston.

There is not much danger of a split unless Smith comes down here with a clear majority of all votes and lack enough for a two-thirds vote. If he holds his majority together for 10 or 15 ballots and the other third holds solidly against him, then the split talk will start.

So, Mr. Editor, if you want to see a good show, be sure to come to Houston. The hotels will be full but the wagon yards and tourist camps can take care of you. Better bring your own chuck box.

Respectfully,
Thomas Jefferson Brown.

Mrs. Martin Entertains

On Saturday Mrs. J. C. Martin entertained with 42. She used for decorations potted flowers of many colors. On the four tables arranged for the games were black covers with gay floral borders. The tallies and score pads were gay and pretty. 84 favors were announced and during the afternoon as the guests made the lucky 84 they were permitted to get a prize by pulling a string and from the top of the book case appeared a novel gift such as pins, needle, cake cutter, etc.
Table favors were useful kitchen utensils and were cut for and received by Mesdames Conn Miller and Mack Fox; Misses Mary Lake Henderson and Sallie Kate McLane.

The hostess served on lovely hand-painted trays and the salad plate contained cream chicken in pastry cups, pineapple salad, cheese sandwiches, sweet pickle peach, crackers, confections and hot coffee. Mrs. Triggs, a neighbor who is soon leaving Cameron and Miss Katherine Henderson of Austin were both given dainty gifts.

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

HASSELL, MURDERER OF 13 WAS PRAYING DEACON; SMILES AT DEATH AS HE GOES TO ELECTRIC CHAIR FEBRUARY TENTH

Huntsville, Feb. 4.—A death cell at the state penitentiary today houses one of the biggest puzzles to penitentiary officials and students of human behavior this state has known. Incidentally George J. Hassell, the subject, sentenced to be executed on Feb. 10, has one of the blackest criminal records ever recorded in Texas.

Hassell pleaded guilty to the murder of his wife and eight stepchildren at Farwell, Texas, a year ago. He admitted, also, killing a woman and 3 small children in California. He says he has more to tell before he dies.

He has no feeling of remorse, no regrets and laughs in the face of the chair which will cause his death.

A Murder's View

"I am luckier than you," he told an interviewer. "I know when I will die but you do not know what day you will be shot, hurt in a wreck or how long you may suffer with some fatal illness. You have worries and have to work, while I am being guarded and fed well for my execution."

Again he has said that he would give his life if someone would explain to him why he killed the women and children he loved. He quarreled with his wife at Farwell. She had been his brother's wife. Four months after his brother's death he married her. He admitted before killing her with a hammer that he had improper relations with two of his stepdaughters one of whom was to be a mother.

In Whittier, California, he was living with a woman and her three small children. They were in bed one night laughing and joking when suddenly he was seized with a desire to kill. He choked the woman and the three babies to death and buried them underneath the house. The remains were found following his confession last year in Farwell, almost 10 years after the first tragedy.

He admits having lived with three wives and seven women from three months to three years. The fate of his women paramours and one of his wives remains unknown.

Doesn't Seem to Worry

Despite his having killed thirteen helpless persons in two wholesale murder spree Hassell does not have a worry. He has a smile that disarms the most antagonistic person, and a manner that brands him as a really happy-go-lucky fellow.

He served several penitentiary terms for deserting the army, the navy and for swindling. He planned a wholesale murder at 17, but drank so much whiskey he could not carry out his plans. He was going to murder his stepmother and a group of her relatives.

He was a consistent church goer for a large part of his life and bragged that he could outpray any man in his county. He said that he prayed at church in the daytime and chased about with girls at night.

'Never Wrecked a Home'

For all of his wild affairs and his great attraction to women he declares he never wrecked a home—he merely destroyed them.

Hassell swears he will go to his death smiling. He wants to do that to show that he is unafraid—that he doesn't care. His only regret of the past two months in prison is that some of the facts of his life have been misrepresented. He is exceptionally honest, refuses to tell a lie and declares he does not owe a penny.

Psychologists say he has the brain of a man, the vitality of great historical characters and the emotions of a child. He cannot blush or cry—it is a physical impossibility.

Right-of-way Secured To Open a New Road Connecting Highway

Through the efforts of the Thorndale Commercial Club, together with the co-operation of Commissioner H. H. Moore and those living in the vicinity of the Arkansas and Nile communities, a new road will be opened through the former community to connect with the Thorndale-Rockdale highway at Nile.

Right of way has already been secured and the work of setting the fences back for a 40 foot road was begun Wednesday afternoon by those along whose places the road passes. The road in question begins at the John Lehman place in the Arkansas community, about three miles east of Thorndale and passes the following places: Will Wuensche, Wm. Kiesling, Ernest Becker, August Becker, John Olbricht, Oscar Melde, Paul Kelm, Mrs. E. Lehman, E. C. Moseley, Otto Niemsch, Garner Estate, Steve Reiger and connecting with the Salty road coming out into the Thorndale-Rockdale highway at the Nile school and store.

The road has already been staked off and just as soon as the work of moving the fences back is completed the right of way will be graded up and put in condition by Commissioner Moore, which will give the people along whose places it passes better access to Thorndale, often enabling them to travel this road in bad weather, when they otherwise could not gain access to this highway.

The opening of this road means much to Thorndale as well as those along the route and those responsible for bringing about the move are to be complimented.—Thorndale Champion.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Abraham Lincoln

1809 to 1865

In a cabin far out in the wilderness of Kentucky was born on February 12, 1809, the sturdy pioneer, statesman and preserver of the Union. Recognizing this patriot the American people on February 12 of each year pay tribute to his memory and set aside the day to revere the service he gave unselfishly to the American Union as Sixteenth President.

American history has many heritages of character, giving sturdiness to the government and emphasizing the virtues of constitutional government under which a free people have grown powerful in peace and civil pursuits.

One of the early public utterances of this statesman was his advocacy of banking. Lincoln knew the benefits of well ordered financial institutions and saw in advance of many others the great development of finance under proper management and supervision.

This bank is the pioneer in the financial growth of Milam county and offers a service commensurate with the growing demands on banking. This bank comprehends the needs of all and its services are available to all.

Open an account today and let us prove the benefits of such an institution.

FARMERS ARE ASKED TO REDUCE ACREAGE

VITAL TO SAFETY OF FARMERS AND BUSINESS IS CLAIM

The Texas Cotton Association is an Association of cotton buyers (shippers and exporters) representing a majority of those engaged in handling cotton of Texas and Oklahoma. The Directors at a recent meeting, realizing that it would be disastrous to the best interest of the South at large to increase the cotton acreage, passed a resolution and appointed a committee of three to bring to the minds of the farmers and the business men of Texas and Oklahoma the disastrous effects of an increase in the cotton acreage. This action is entirely unselfish and inimical to the selfish cotton dealer by reason of the fact that his profits are calculated upon the number of bales handled and not upon the gross amount of dollars involved. The profit of the average commercial business is calculated on the dollars and cents involved, whereas in the cotton business it is upon the number of bales handled.

It can readily be seen that we have the best interests of the State at heart and we want to appeal to those who are vitally interested, the bankers whose loans are based upon the values of agricultural commodities, to the country merchants who furnish the farmer dry goods and groceries, to the county demonstration agents, the chambers of commerce and to the farmer himself, who is by far more interested than anyone else.

Further, if cotton buyers of Texas who in the past have been accused of trying to beat the price of cotton down come out in the open and ask the farmer to reduce the cotton acreage for 1928 by ten per cent, probably at a financial loss to themselves, then it would seem only fair and right to reduce the acreage at least ten per cent in order that the farmer may get a fair return for his labor and investment for the year 1928. If he increases his cotton acreage ten per cent there is no doubt in this committee's mind that we will have a repetition of the prices prevailing for the 1926-27 crop, which was disastrous to the entire State.

The Texas farmer has the situation in his own hands not only for himself but for the balance of the belt, as the Texas farmer controls the acreage (and the price largely), and the entire South is now uneasy that Texas will plant an increased acreage this year. The present talk of an increase in acreage is largely responsible for the recent decline in the market. Let each and everyone of us give this serious consideration.

We endorse the work of the Texas Safe Farming Association and especially commend to your serious consideration the pamphlet entitled "Money in Farming in 1928," recently sent you by that association. As business men we cannot conceive of how the bankers, the merchants and the landlords have continuously for fifty years robbed our soil of its resources at the expense of the reserve fertility of the soil. If banking and other corporate businesses were conducted upon this line, i. e., paying dividends out of their reserves it would mean bankruptcy to those interests as it has meant bankruptcy to the fertility of our soil. We have impoverished the richest part of our State through continuous cultivation of cotton and just at the moment we have practically got the last dipper's worth out of the barrel.

We want the cooperation of every farmer, banker, country merchant, county agent and chamber of commerce as we feel it is to the best interest of the State as a whole to carry out this program. We consider this so important that we recommend that the Texas Cotton Association take such steps as may be necessary to give this communication the widest possible publicity and we invite the cooperation of the press of the entire state.

Yours very truly,
S. W. King, Chairman
E. M. Wilson,
Robt. Mayer,
Committee of Cotton Acreage.

A number of schools have enrolled and doubtless every school in the county will join in the campaign before February 15th as that is the last day for enrollment. The contest does not close until March 1st and during this month a great many of the pests will be exterminated.

The following schools have already filed their names with the County Superintendent for enrollment.
Pin Oak, Miss Thrane Easley.
Sandy Creek, Miss Flora M. Sharp.
Yarrelton, C. F. Merchant.

From one farm near Minerva, one little girl brought in eighty-six rat tails one morning. Parents may assist children in killing the rats but the teachers must make actual count in order that no question may arise.

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

ARTICLE THREE

THE LAND OF COTTON

THE American phase of Cotton began in prehistoric times, for early explorers found it in use among the Indians, but the American growing of cotton by white men probably started as early as 1621, when seeds were brought from Siam to Talbot County, Maryland, and there cultivated for the beauty of the flowers.

In 1621, there also was made an experimental planting of cotton in Virginia in order to test the soil of that region. The experiment showed that cotton could be grown there, but the plant's culture was slow in spreading, for it was not until 170 years later that any accounting was made of the crop, and then (1790-91) the total American production was only about ten tons.

For generations the removal of the seeds was a slow, laborious and costly process of hand labor, and comparatively little cotton was raised in spite of the great advantages of soil and climate possessed by the South.

Then, in 1793, Eli Whitney, of Massachusetts, reached Savannah looking for a position as school teacher. Instead of devoting his time to text-books and examination papers, as he had expected, young Whitney accepted an invitation to visit the plantation of Mrs. Nathaniel Greene, widow of the famous general of the Revolution. Mrs. Greene raised cotton, and Whitney saw the toilsome process of hand cleaning which produced but a pound of lint a day. It set his ingenious New England brain to work in terms of cylinders, wheels, spikes and brushes, and in a few weeks he had constructed the model of a machine that would clean as much cotton as fifty hand-workers. This was born the cotton-gin. Also, thus was born the modern cotton industry.

Now, indeed, it became worth while to raise cotton, and American production grew by leaps and bounds. By the time of Whitney's death, in 1825, it had increased to more than fifty times the size at the time of his invention. His ingenious idea has proved one of the world's greatest wealth creators.

Even before Eli Whitney made it possible to produce raw cotton cheaply, Hargreaves, Kay, Arkwright, Crompton and others in England, had devised machines for use in its manufacture, and in 1787, the first cotton factory in the United States was built at Beverly, Massachusetts. Samuel Slater came from England two years later, bringing in his head the Arkwright inventions which he installed in a factory at Providence, Rhode Island.

At just about that time, (January 15, 1790) Alexander Hamilton, then Secretary of the Treasury, sent a long report to the House of Representatives on the "expediency of encouraging manufactures in the United States." He noted the establishment of the New England cotton mills, as well as others for the "printing and staining" of cotton goods, and recommended Govern-

A machine that would clean as much cotton as fifty hand workers mental encouragement to the new industries through bounties and tariffs.

For several generations, American cotton production divided very simply into two parts: the South for raw cotton and New England for yarns and textiles. The last generation has seen an extraordinary development in manufacture by the South where many great plants have been established close to the source of raw cotton. Today, two-thirds of its American consumption is in the Southern mills.

Other industries which, while subsidiary to the raising, spinning and weaving of cotton are yet great businesses in themselves, have grown up with the growth of the whole. There are thousands of ginners and compressors and immense interests in the buying and selling of raw cotton. The fabrics as they come from the looms—the "grey goods" so called, must pass into the hands of the bleachers, dyers and converters who adapt them to the myriad requirements of commerce. There is a veritable army of sales and distribution, including brokers, wholesalers, retailers and exporters. The "cutting-up trade" produces an incredible quantity of ready-to-wear cotton garments.

To these, but in a different class, must be added the many processes making use of seed and linters, while, underlying all this network of industry and commerce, there are, of course, the cotton farmers of many States, who produce the raw material.

And now, just a single breathtaking glimpse of the staggering dimensions of this industry: during the first three months of 1927, there were sold more than five hundred thousand miles of American cotton goods—enough to reach from the Earth to the Moon and back again with many thousands of miles to spare!

America has built up a cotton industry surpassing any possibility hoped for or dreamt of by Hamilton.

(Next Article, "COTTON BROUGHT TEARS.")

What About the 1928 Business Program

Business in industry and distribution is spotted in so far as profits go. The significant fact is that everybody knows it and with a sound agricultural outlook as a base, those who have effected economies should make more money this year than last year. That observation by Oliver McQuage, economist, in the January issue of Texas Opportunities concludes while introducing a forecast of general business aspects for 1928.

"The debt liquidation power of the past crop was much greater than many have realized due to the fact that it was a season of high grades. In 1926 the crop had an abundance of low grades. In addition, the peak of the cotton market was reached about the same time the peak of the movement took place.

"The farmer diversified in 1927. If for no other reason, he had to do so because the banks would not lend him money. The result was that he had a large equity in the crop when it was ginned. A good deal of this money went into payments on past debts and not into circulation."

Then delving into possibilities of the immediate future, Mr. McQuage declares "undoubtedly the standard of living in Texas in increasing and this means larger utilization of modern conveniences. I notice that one industrial engineer estimates the capital investment for industrial expansion in Texas this year at 75 millions with power and light companies leading the procession."

"Summing up, the Texas business outlook is gratifying as contrasted to last year. Instead of agriculture being depressed, it is quite the opposite. Banks have more money, there is a lender for any legitimate need—and there is a distinct background at the same time for putting the 1928 crops into the ground at cheap cost—namely experience of 1927 of what can be done on the farmer's part and realization by the extender of credit at the primary source, the country banker and landlord, that financing each crop is a separate proposition to be done always at a minimum cost and without any relation to the past year's production or price which is "water over the wheel" and should not be used as a measuring stick"—Texas Opportunities.

Again the Billion Dollar State

Texas rings the bell again—the bell no other State has yet made tinkle. Indeed, the sound is that of a boisterous gong proclaiming in triumphant notes the commonwealth's agricultural supremacy.

Have you seen the latest government estimates? They reveal values like these:

Cotton	$587,000,000
Cotton Seed	100,000,000
Corn	100,000,000
Wheat	20,000,000
Grain Sorghums	54,000,000
Oats	16,000,000
Barley	4,000,000
Potatoes	4,500,000
Sweet Potatoes	6,500,000
Tame hay	15,000,000
Rice	6,500,000
Peanuts	2,500,000
Fruits and Vegetables	50,000,000
TOTAL	$986,000,000

That doesn't include a miscellaneous variety of crops which add up to enormous figures. It doesn't include the sheep or the goats of this great wool and mohair capital of the nation. It doesn't take into consideration the hogs on the farms, the beef animals on the ranches, or the dairy industry that is growing by leaps and bounds. Texas is becoming a poultry state, yet the wealth thus added does not appear in these "agricultural" estimates.

"Texas" thus, again sets a record never approached by any other State and seldom equaled by any other two States.

Dividends from Texas agriculture are consistently high. They reflect the greater capital represented by richer soils and open seasons and better year-round climate. It is logical to suppose that greater resources must be back of the larger agricultural income. But the mistake is too often made of jumping to the conclusion that State alone is responsible. Nothing could be farther from the fact, and this becomes apparent when acre yields and the extent of uncultivated lands are taken into consideration.—Texas Opportunities.

42 Club

Mrs. Oxsheer Smith was hostess to the members of the 42 Club in honor of Mrs. Albert Triggs who is soon leaving Cameron for her home in Mineola, at her home at three o'clock Thursday. The living room was decorated in Valentine and red hearts. Bowls and vases held red carnations and japonica. Three tables had been arranged for the games and on the centers of each was a novelty basket.

All tables accessories were in Valentine ideas. The guests were served a dainty salad course with a raspberry drink. After the guests had been served Mrs. Smith in a very appropriate little speech said that the club did not give prizes but that she had a surprise for Mrs. Albert Triggs, the honoree and she presented her with a red heart shape box filled with handkerchiefs that the guests had brought earlier in the day. As the guests were departing the hostess presented them with a red carnation and a fern frond.

Science Notes

Traffic lights controlled by the sound of the automobile horn have been under tests in Baltimore, Md. A highly amplified microphone along the roadside, is made sensitive to vibration in such a manner as to change a green light to red. The lamps remain in this position for a few seconds and then automatically change back to the original signal.

Insects, lizards and many kinds of reptiles are on exhibition under conditions closely resembling their natural habitats in the Jardin des Plantes, Paris. Miniature forests, enclosed in glass afford natural living surroundings and spectators may see them at work. The "zoo" is a fulfillment of the wish of Jean Henri Fabre.

By directing a beam of light upon the entrance of their hives, an English beekeeper has stimulated his bees to earlier activity, so that they produce an average of 17 pounds more honey per colony during the season.

By the use of a common toothbrush, with the bristles cut short, Dr. John McMullen, a United States public-health surgeon, has made progress in the cure of trachoma, a painful eye disease commonly found in parts of the south. The infection first attacks the eyelids, then the eyeball and may eventually cause blindness. The doctor found that, by using a local anesthetic on the lid, then scrubbing it off with the short bristled toothbrush, diseased tissue was removed and the sound, though tender, flesh was healed.

Using colored lights in place of a curtain to shut off the stage while scenery is being changed has been introduced in London. The system allows the auditorium lights to remain on, but forms an impenetrable curtain of black before the stage, so the audience cannot see the scene shifters. The inventor made the discovery while experimenting with the effect of colored spotlights on women's gowns. He found that by projecting a certain hue on a blue gown the dress appeared to be black. Substituting a blue ray for the gown, he projected amber and pink rays on the blue light and produced a black screen.

Tests with a fuel gas, having nearly the same weight as air, are being conducted in Germany for use in airships. It would do away with liquid fuels, which are a source of danger and a disadvantage of aviation because of the lightening of the ship as they are consumed. Since the gas has about the weight of air, the balance of a dirigible, for instance, would be disturbed very slightly, if at all.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

BREAK CHEST COLDS WITH RED PEPPER

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

●"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

●The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles."

What scientists had previously been unable to identify in the sun's corona, has been proved to be argon by Ira M. Freeman, of the University of Chicago. The substance is a rare gas, constituting about one per cent of the earth's atmosphere and is being commercially in the manufacture of certain kinds of lights.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

BRILLIANTLY Different

Dodge Brothers Victory Six is not only a new car but an entirely new and better kind of a car.

For the first time in history, body and chassis are a single, integral unit.

The wide, deep Victory chassis frame, flush with the body lines, eliminates the body sill and the customary body OVERHANG.

Major body parts are reduced from 367 to 8! 175 pounds of useless weight are cast off!

The gravity center is radically lowered—with head-room and road clearance unaffected.

The results can not be expressed—they must be experienced.

No unpleasant skidding or sidesway at the corners. No back-wheel "chatter" when the Lockheed Hydraulic brakes are quickly applied.

A smoothness over cobble roads that you have never imagined possible.

A swift car that is safe—a moderate-priced car unsurpassed in smartness and individuality.

Mrs. Preston Graves on last Saturday night entertained with a party in the parlors of the Country Club for her son, Frederick, who is a graduate this year. The guests included members of his graduating class and friends in high school and numbered fifty-five. The rooms were decorated in red hearts of graduating sizes hanging from the windows and red streamers were draped about the room. Caps of two styles, one for boys and one for girls made of the red paper were given the guests.

Punch was served throughout the evening. Many delightful games of 42 and bridge and merry conversation were enjoyed.

Mrs. Graves, assisted by Mrs. W. T. Hefley of Temple served white cake squares with a red heart on top and apricot soufflé topped with whipped cream and a red cherry featuring the Valentine colors. Plate favors were tiny red hearts through which was a tiny arrow. During the evening Messrs. Temple and Coleman, teachers in high school called.

Those seated about the table were: The honoree, Mrs. McMillan; Misses Delphyn Scott, Blanche Hensley, Minnie Bartholomew, Ruth Kemp and Mr. and Mrs. Kemp. A three course luncheon was served. Fruit cocktail, spring chicken, rice, giblet gravy, pickle, potato chips, tea, rolls and coffee. Heavily pudding with angel food cake and gold cake iced in red and in heart shape.

In the center of the table was a large four and twenty black bird pie with the bird perched on the edge and from this, streamers extended to each plate and between courses the guests were asked to pull the ribbon and from the pie came novelty whistles. A basket was passed and the article chosen from the basket indicated the occupation of their present or future husband. This was indeed a delightful evening and friends of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan will greatly miss them as they are leaving for Waco to make their home, where Mr. McMillan has been promoted by the Sap railroad.

To All Road Overseers In Milam County:

You are requested to return your 1927 commissions, at once, to Miss Lilian Atkinson, County Clerk, so that the Commissioners' Court will have them in making new appointments next week.

JEFF T. KEMP, County Judge.

To the People of Cameron:

I desire to express my sincere appreciation for the splendid vote given me at the polls on last Tuesday. I received the nomination for the office of Mayor and the vote and support of my friends and the people at large is a source of gratification to me.

On account of pressing duties in court I could make no canvas of the voters and while I made no campaign many came voluntarily to offer their support. For this expression of confidence I shall give my very best efforts to the office of Mayor, having always the best interests of the people at heart.

Sincerely,

ACUTE ATTACKS

Of Indigestion Helped By Black-Draught.

Black-Draught was recommended to Mrs. Reathia Edmondson, of Williamson, N. Car., by her father-in-law. She says:

"Shortly after I became a bride, I had a spell of indigestion, and my father-in-law told me to take a dose of Black-Draught. I had never heard of it before, but I tried it, and got such quick relief. I have turned to it ever since."

"About three years ago, I began having acute attacks of indigestion real frequently. I would feel severe pains through the lower part of my body, and they were accompanied by bad gas pains. I took a systematic course of Black-Draught and soon began to feel better. The acute attacks disappeared." Try Theodor's Black-Draught for indigestion. You can get it everywhere.

CAMERON BOY WITH THE MARINES IN NICARAGUA TELLS OF BATTLES WITH BANDITS; HAS 19 MONTHS TO SERVE

James Merritt of Cameron is now with the United States Marines in Nicaragua and has written an interesting letter to his father here, H. M. Merritt, telling of the battles with the bandit armies.

James Merritt enlisted with the Marines about two years ago and has some time yet to serve. He has obtained a liberal education since taking up duties with the marines and likes the hitch with Uncle Sam's greatest fighting men. Here is his letter:

Matagalpa, Nicaragua
January 16, 1928.

Dear Dad:

I received your letter today and sure was glad to hear from you. It is the first one I have received from you in a long time. I sure do thank you.

Well Dad I suppose you have heard about the latest battle the Marines had. We lost a good many men, but we couldn't help it. They attacked the Marines when they didn't expect it and that is how they got so many. The Marines were going along a narrow path on their way to Quilali, Nicaragua when they were attacked and they didn't have time for anything. But the Marines got the best of the battle. They killed about two hundred of the damn specks.

We have a battle about every day, that is up in the hills. Down here where I am we are not bothered with them much. They are afraid to come down this far. But we are always looking for an attack, but we have been lucky, I think.

Well Dad I am glad you are getting along alright with your work and like it. It won't be long before I will get out you know. I have just 19 months more and then I will be free again and I am going to stay that way too. I have had enough of this fighting to do me for some time to come.

Dad the Marines have had it hard down here. They go out on patrols and get in a battle and lose almost everything they have with them. Some of them lose their food and don't have anything to eat but bananas and oranges and what they can find.

Dad I am sending you copy of the latest engagement that the Marines had. It is the worst one of all I think, at least we lost more men. You can show it to James Neinst if you wish and let him know what is going on down here and give him my best regards.

Say Dad, how is Roy Tyson by this time? Tell him he should join the Marines and come down here with me and fight, it would do him a lot of good.

Well Dad I haven't much time tonight to write and I am in a hurry too. I will write more next time. Be real good and write me more often. Tell Tom to be good and remember me.

Your son,
Jimmie.

Household Notes

The Sauce Makes the Occasion

Ice cream alone is dessey. Ice cream with a sauce is an occasion. So the next time a little variety is wanted, try this pineapple-mint sauce: Boil two cups sugar and one-half cup water to a thick syrup. Color with vegetable coloring to a brilliant green. When cool add one drop of oil of peppermint and one cup crushed and drained pineapple.

The Club Sandwich's Secrets

Club sandwiches and winter seem to have a peculiar affinity, perhaps, because the sandwiches add a touch of spicy adventure to a meal, for one never knows what a club sandwich will contain. One of the newest varieties contains crushed Hawaiian pineapple. To make it, toast three thin slices of bread and butter them. On the first slice arrange lettuce and slices of cooked bacon; add the second slice of toast, and place on it thin slices of cold roast chicken, spread with well drained crushed pineapple mixed with mayonnaise; cover with the third slice of toast and serve immediately.

This Fruit Fights Indigestion

Why is pineapple used in so many diets? That is a question often heard and the answer follows close behind. Aside from the ordinary advantages of a fruit, pineapple contains an enzyme, bromelin, which is particularly valuable as a digestive. For instance, the following dish of baked rice and pineapple au gratin can be eaten by anyone with perfect immunity and delight. Cook one cup boiled rice until tender and put a layer in bottom of a greased dish. Cover with sliced Hawaiian pineapple cut in small pieces. Sprinkle with grated cheese, salt and pepper. Add a layer of rice to almost fill the dish, then a layer of pineapple left in half slices and cover with grated cheese. Pour over one cup pineapple syrup. Dot with bits of butter. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until thoroughly heated, then brown on top.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How to Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

Big Year Ahead For Hudson Motor Co. Is View of President

An optimistic view of 1928 as an automobile year is expressed by R. B. Jackson, president of the Hudson Motor Car Company, in his remarks to Hudson stockholders which accompanied the annual report. He said, in part:

"We are now beginning our 20th year, with our factories well rounded out, both as to personnel and physical equipment.

"Our dealers throughout the United States have been increased in numbers and strength, affording us one of the best distributing systems in the country.

"We have appreciated the value of export business and have persistently developed it for years. Our foreign distributors are well organized and financially capable. To encourage them and at the same time offer our product at competitive prices, we have established assembly plants in several strategic locations. As a result, regardless of the great drive for foreign business, we have maintained our position. During this period, we have increased this export trade from nine to fourteen per cent of our total volume.

"It is our belief that 1928, the 20th Hudson year, will bring marked results in our further growth and success. The company's history supports this confidence.

"Nineteen years ago the total cash investment of the Hudson Motor Car Company was but fifteen thousand dollars. The expansion of the business since then has been entirely through earnings—not a cent has been added from outside sources.

"Our operating group has been developed largely from within, is responsible for the company's advancement, and has participated in its results; always proving capable of meeting the emergencies of a fast-growing business. This development is bound to continue with the energetic urge represented by the present organization.

"In addition to the foregoing healthy expansion from within, so important to any corporate success, we believe our automobile offering to the public this coming year to be of unusual appeal. The 1928 Hudson and Essex models measure, in their present progress of design and manufacturing quality, alongside the growth of the company."

Former Cameron Man is Head of Remedy Co. Located at Thorndale

R. L. Batte, who with other associates owns the Mercy Products Co., with headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa., manufacturers and importers of canine remedies, has taken over the Southern territory of the company with headquarters at Thorndale and is directing a national publicity campaign throughout Texas and the South and Southwest, having this publicity done by the Job Department of the Champion, a large order of which has already been delivered to Mr. Batte for his campaign.

The Mercy Products of Texas, with Mr. Batte as owning manager are manufacturing at their laboratories in Pittsburgh, Pa., remedies that have proved their worth on more than one occasion, various testimonials having been received by the company from dog fanciers and various kennels throughout the United States, endorsing the remedies. Among the testimonials is one from the famous Mellon Hunting Lodge, a large estate which is maintained for the sport of hunting at Laughlinton, Pa., and whose large pack of Fox hounds were stricken with a serious malady which claimed a number of the best Fox dogs. Upon hearing of the Mercy Products remedies they gave them a thorough trial with the result that all dogs that had not been lost were restored to their former hunting efficiency. No doubt when the merits of these remedies are known throughout the South the local agency will enjoy a lucrative business on these products. The company slogan is: "Have 'MERCY' on Your Dog," a remedy for every canine ill.—Thorndale Champion.

I took three bottles of Cardui and very soon, I saw quite a difference. Later on in life, after I got married, I was very weak and nervous, before my baby came. I remembered what Cardui had done for me when a girl and sent for it again. I only had taken two bottles when I felt so much stronger and better. I am a great believer in Cardui because I know it did me good." Cardui should do you good, too. Try it.

DISTRICT COURT

The jury in the case of Anthony Huebner and his father Fred H. Huebner versus Hubert Hefley Motor Company and others was discharged at noon Monday after being out since about eleven o'clock Saturday night, having reported several times prior to their discharge they could not reach a verdict. The case resulted from alleged injuries sustained by plaintiff, Anthony Huebner, on account of a blow on the head received from an employee of the motor company while Huebner was in the place of business in regard to a tire adjustment. The case went on trial Monday the 30th of January.

The following constituted the personnel of the jury: Ed Kasper, Charles Gibson, T. H. Eiland, Wilford Berry, H. S. Cunningham, Clarence Jackson, Kelso Rogers, Ben Wooten, C. E. Porter, Ed Dahse, A. L. Lawhorn and W. C. Butler, foreman.

Plaintiffs were represented by Williams, Williams, McClellan and Lincoln of Waco and Chambers and Gilis of Cameron and the defendants by Henderson, Kidd and Henderson of Cameron, E. A. Camp of Rockdale and Douglas, Carter and Black of San Antonio.

Among the leading physicians who testified were Drs. Eduard Rischer, W. R. Newton, D. E. Monroe, M. C. Sapp, T. E. Crump, of Cameron and James G. Terrill of Timberland Sanitarium, Dallas and head of Mental and Nervous Diseases of Baylor Medical College and Thomas Dorbandt, head of Medical and Surgery Hospital, San Antonio.

The evidence from these capable professional men was not in complete harmony as to the present mental status of the plaintiff, Anthony Huebner or as to the case of same.

The cases of George Marshall versus the Maccabees, for damages for the cancellation of his membership in that order, is on trial in the district court this week. On account of Judge Watson being a member of The Maccabees, he is recused in the case and Judge E. M. Dodson of Marlin is presiding. W. A. Morrison represents the plaintiff and E. C. Street, Waco and John B. McIlwain and John E. Own of Detroit, Michigan, defendant.

Judge George Calhoun, presiding Judge of the 3rd Judicial Administrative District of Texas has designated Judge John Watson to hold a special term of District Court in La Grange, Fayette County, beginning the 13th of February and continue three weeks to assist in the clearing of the congested docket there. Judge Watson and his court reporter, Mr. C. H. Polard, will leave Sunday and will likely remain there until the latter part of the month.

A Man of Inexhaustible Patience

To people of all times there's a valuable lesson in one of Lincoln's outstanding characteristics—PATIENCE.

Lincoln won out because he had patience backed by persistence and led by foresight. He never looked upon discouragement as defeat. These qualities are just as essential in advancing the life program of the humblest and most obscure as in furthering the ambitions of the eminent and prominent.

Patience exercised in slowly accumulating the "first hundred" dollars, or the "first thousand," proves a valuable aid when later applied to greater problems in financial progress.

SOMEBODY'S USED CAR

Every car that carries a license tag is somebody's used car. Some are run 5,000 miles, some are run 100,000 miles before trading. Just remember that used cars are the only cars that can be driven and the only difference is the point that a person starts from on the speedometer. The mileage cost varies with weight and price of the car.

Suppose you buy a new car for example—

Workin' Toward One End

Some women's organizations could teach the men's clubs a good lesson if only the men were willing to profit by their observation as to how the women's clubs accomplish things. Usually it is by working at one thing at a time until it is accomplished. The men's clubs too often start numbers of worthy efforts only to drop them for something else, but women's clubs seldom drop a good work until it is finished. This statement is prompted by the appearance of a splendid edition of the Weatherford Democrat devoted to the Weatherford Public Library and edited by the Business and Professional Women's Club of the city. Editor Phillips in that edition, after complimenting the club on what it has done for the library says: "Having undertaken a definite task these ladies have whole heartedly applied themselves to it. Regardless of the future what they have done has been very much worth while. Having progressed thus far they are making a special effort to build up a larger and better library." It is a safe prediction that they will succeed even beyond their present anticipations.

What Shall It Be?

Interest in many clubs, whether men's or women's organizations, is lost too often by lack of that "definite task," on which interest can be centered with sufficient force to succeed. Even one small thing well done in a year is far better than a dozen big efforts started and dropped. It is easy to get "too many irons in the fire" in civic and club work. Any one of a dozen of more things might be undertaken by any organization in any town that would be worthy of its efforts. For instance a number of Cuero women have formed a "hospital auxiliary," the purpose of which is to beautify the hospital property, furnish the hospital with linens and supplies and make the stay of the patients there more bright and cheerful. Could any local work, if well done, be better than that proposed by these women? One needs only to look about to find useful and needed service.

Planning Year's Work

The Marble Falls Messenger says "If we get the cotton mill in operation this year, the cheese factory to going and a cold storage and dressing plant Marble Falls will step lively this fall." That looks like a big program, but as the plans are already laid for these Marble Falls will likely get them going. Besides there is that good roads movement to push along. There is lots of latent energy in every town the size of Marble Falls, if only it can be started actively to work.

Catching Flies

The Sonora Experiment Station people experimented last spring at catching flies on 25 Menard county ranches in destroying screwworms that affect cattle and sheep disastrously. Some 16,244,000 flies were caught in 280 fly traps and brought together in one place. A trap that will last four or five years cost about $3.00 to $5.00 and the cost of operation is about 65c a month. This suggests the possibility of eliminating flies altogether with the right kind of concerted effort. It also suggests that right now is the time to begin campaigns against the swarms of flies and mosquitoes with which many places will be afflicted next summer if preventive measures are not adopted early.

Successful Farming

Starting there five years ago in a little one-room box shack and soon making a first payment on 160 acres of land, A. C. Woodward and wife, at Lamesa, now have a home valued at $34,000 and "have money and material possessions besides." They have done this by working together at intelligent farming and stock raising. Of course the Lamesa country is a good country, but the Woodwards would likely have succeeded just as well in any other part of Texas. Farming, to be successful requires the same intelligence and effort necessary to build up any other successful business.

Join Your Town

The Wortham Journal asks its readers, "Have you 'joined' Wortham?" While urging its readers to patronize the home business whenever possible, the Journal rightly says: "No trade at home movement founded upon compulsion is sound. The trade at home movement that holds water is based on good business and civic loyalty. In this modern age of competition no alert business man thinks of depending upon trade at home propaganda as an excuse for his own non-progressiveness." Good roads have put country and town, town and city, very close together and business goes where it is sought and where there is evidence that it is appreciated.

Shipping San Saba Turkeys

San Saba doesn't seem satisfied to be known as the leading pecan county of the country, but is trying to take the laurels for turkey raising from its neighboring counties of McCulloch, Burnet, Llano and Brown. One turkey rancho in that county is shipping breeding turkeys to California, to Vermont and to Saskatchewan, Canada. In past few weeks turkeys have gone from this rancho to Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Nevada and Idaho.

Presidio County Mines

Texas metal mines last year produced 400 ounces of old, 1,000,000 ounces of silver and 500,000 pounds of lead, the greater part of which came from one mine in Presidio County, according to the United States Bureau of Mines. This mine has been a consistent producer since 1885 and since that time has produced 18,987,000 ounces of metal. Mining for metals is perhaps the most neglected Texas industry, the mining development having received comparatively little attention.

Beautifying Public Square

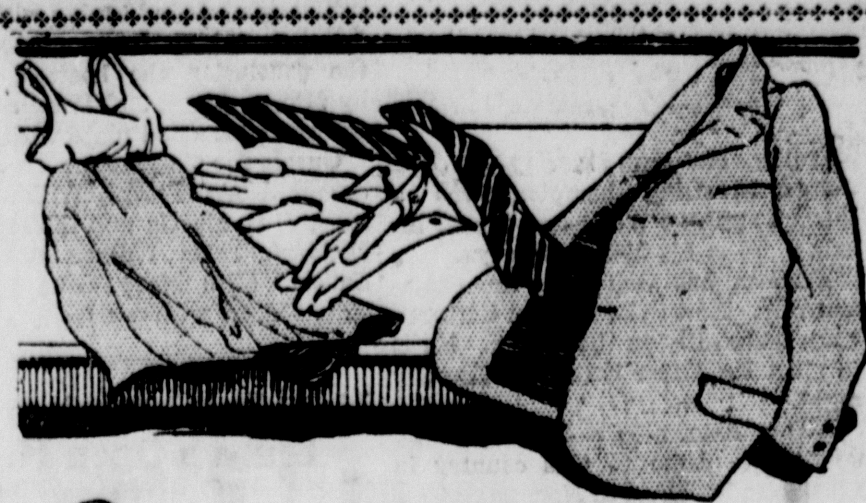

Many courthouse squares in Texas are neglected-looking, unattractive spots in the heart of the business districts. The commissioners of Kerr County have appropriated the funds to beautify the courthouse square at Kerrville and will spend about $8,500 for walks, parkways and other improvements.

Yates Pool Possibilities

Oil operators at the session of the oil and gas bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce freely predicted that the ultimate recovery of oil in the Yates pool in Pecos County would reach 500,000,000 barrels—one of the richest oil pools in the world.

Hearne's Street Program

Thirty-four blocks will be paved in the business and residence district of Hearne from an $80,000 bond issue voted last summer by a majority of 172 to 13. The small towns in all parts of Texas are awakening to the importance of better streets.

Cleaning Saves Buying!

It has often been demonstrated that garments kept fresh and spotless by frequent visits to the cleaner, last much longer than if allowed to become too soiled. Many kinds of stains, perspiration, grease and gritty dust, actually weaken fabric if not removed promptly, and clothes wear out sooner than they should.

Dry cleaning costs little and lengthens the life of your clothes.

World Needs to Discover Religion of Jesus; Gave to Mankind Doctrine of Brotherhood But Many Churches Betray His Spirit

for her the support and sympathy of some of the brightest minds of the race. The simple truth is, my friends Jesus would not permit his disciples to be called Rabbi, for the simple reason that all men are brothers and among brothers there is no place for authority and no place for the spirit of lordship. The rediscovery of the religion of Jesus, then, leaves no place for a religion of authority. It simply cannot harmonize with the brotherhood idea as set forth by Jesus, where all enjoyed equal rights, and special favors to none. It is, then, this brotherhood idea which we wish to consider for a while this morning—a subject which is largely neglected by present day religion. Neglected because it cannot be handled as well as a religion of magic.

What then, does the practice of brotherhood mean? It is merely a beautiful theme for poets to handle? Just where can we get hold of it? Is there anything real about it, or is it merely a beautiful sentiment? You are familiar enough with the parables of Jesus, spoken centuries ago. Let me now give you a parable spoken only a few months ago by Tagore, of India. It is mighty in its sweep, and infinite in its application: "Recently, in a Christian land, I visited the palatial home of one who calls himself a Christian. After lunch he showed me the hovels of some very poor people and said, 'My brothers and sisters.' At my puzzled look he explained, 'You see I am much older than they, so when father died I naturally took possession of the property.' Naturally? Yes, it was perfectly natural with a religion about Jesus; but entirely foreign to His religion, which was a religion of brotherhood. Moreover, the religion of Jesus would not have seen any real difference in the situation if the children did not have the same earthly father, or even if they had lived in the next town, or the next continent, or made any allowance for the color of their skin. Tagore does not tell us what his reply was to all this; but I know what Jesus would have said: 'Have ye not all one father and are ye not brethren one of another?' And yet my friends, brotherhood does not deal with the question of ownership. That is Caesar's decree, so long as men are childish enough to need a Caesar, or foolish enough to endure one. Brotherhood deals with the deeper question of USE, which alone gives meaning to possession, Caesars to the contrary notwithstanding.

Brotherhood means, if it means anything, that we all have a right to find in the abundance of God's world satisfaction of every need; but not indulgence of our greeds.

The practice of brotherhood means the ordering of world affairs. Biology has long since confirmed St. Paul's discovery that God has made of one blood all the nations of the earth; and nations built on less than that have gone down in ruin. Nor need we fancy that our civilization with its submarines and aeroplanes is secure. Ten years ago it was demonstrated that any civilization can be blasted in bloody ruin. Unless, then, we can learn to practice Jesus' brotherhood, our children's children must go back to the cave. Brotherhood does not concern itself overmuch with squabbles between political parties. Nor does it tell us whether we must fight the German, or kill the Jap; but it does tell us that any government that bids us hate any man or race is pagan and any church that sanctions such an appeal betrays the spirit of Jesus, as Judas betrayed his body.

In his own beautiful way, Dr. Joseph Fort Newton tells us the following story: "The other day a great dirigible floated over our city, so beautiful in the sunlight that we forgot for the moment it was built to drop bombs and not bouquets." As I read I began thinking, and this thought came to me: Suppose Jesus had been in command of that dirigible, and had released its burden of death upon men, women and children; would the heavens have opened, I wonder, and a voice heard saying, 'This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased'? And if not, is there any reason to suppose that God would be any better pleased if those bombs were released by any of His other sons? And would it make any difference to God whether they fell on New York, Boston, Berlin or Peking? And would he allow for the color of their skin, black, white, brown, yellow or red? Surely you can understand that there is a real need to rediscover the religion of Jesus, and waste-basket our religion of magic which is the daddy of all such things! This is all so idealistic, you say, unpractical. Yes, unpractical, and whether or not we can make this religion operative in the world, depends upon how far we ourselves are ready to practice it. Across the centuries comes Jesus' prayer, 'That they may be one.' Yet He is still crucified by those of His own household and betrayed by His friends. Wherever churchly walls are erected in the name of Luther, or Calvin, or Wesley, or Murray against their brothers, there the lie is given to Jesus' prayer. No wonder the world is slow to listen to our pious talk.

Long ago twelve men were together in a room. Humble they were, and ignorant, ignored where they were not hated. Twelve men were together in one room; and had that been all, they themselves would have outlived its memory. They were together in the spirit of brotherhood, so through walls of stone and walls of ignorance, He who had made them one came and abode with them. And the world has never been quite the same since. For 1900 years His other disciples have been missing days exactly like that one by calling the first one a miracle. Can we, then, repeat the Day of Pentecost? Yes, if we honestly seek it with all our hearts. But never forget this: God was long before there were any churches. Will He, then, be even longer after them? Yes, if we go on trying to set up a religion of dogma instead of Jesus' religion of brotherhood. No, if we honestly try to walk in the way He has set before us: The way of love, and equal rights for all God's children. "Be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher, and all ye are brethren."
